

(Download) From Good Faith to Utmost Good Faith in Marine Insurance

From Good Faith to Utmost Good Faith in Marine Insurance

Johan Hendrik Botes

*ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF*

 Download

 Read Online

#7227467 in Books 2006-09-08Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 8.00 x 5.75 x .75l, .70 #File Name:
3631555490240 pages | File size: 58.Mb

Johan Hendrik Botes : From Good Faith to Utmost Good Faith in Marine Insurance before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised From Good Faith to Utmost Good Faith in Marine Insurance:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. An excellent monograph of the civil law concept of good faith ...By Arthur A Crais JrAn excellent monograph of the civil law concept of good faith and how it evolved into utmost good faith in marine insurance.

Apart from its geographical import, the English Channel is also of legal importance serving as the divide between two distinct legal traditions. The sea, being the manifestation of this border, is also the symbolic arena for one of the most contentious modern distinctions between the Civilian and Common Law traditions, namely between good faith and utmost good faith in marine insurance. In essence this work is a critique of the English principle of utmost good faith. The author places Carter v Boehm in its Civilian context. The book includes a comprehensive collection of texts by Civilian writers on the topic of good faith in marine insurance in both the original version and translation.

About the AuthorThe Author: Johan Hendrik Botes was born in Malmesbury (South Africa). He holds the B.A. (Philosophy and Latin, 1997) and LL.B (2001) degrees from the Universiteit van Stellenbosch (South Africa), a law certificate (2001) from the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven (Belgium) and the LL.M.-degree (2002) from the Shipping Law Unit of the University of Cape Town (South Africa). The author did part of his research for the LL.M. dissertation at the Humboldt-Universitt zu Berlin. After an internship at a Hamburg shipping law firm, the author was awarded a scholarship by the DAAD in 2003 for doctoral research at the See- und Seehandelsrechtsinstitut of the Universitt Hamburg. Currently the author is based in Cape Town where he specialises in maritime and shipping law.