Robert J. Hopperton : Standards of Judicial Review in the Supreme Court Land Use Opinions before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Standards of Judicial Review in the Supreme Court Land Use Opinions:

Hopperton's new study discusses a taxonomy, analytic framework and a synthesis in standards of judicial review dealing with land use options. This highly contentious area is illuminated with a shrewd assessment of the possibilities of improvement.

About the Author Robert J. Hopperton is a professor at the University of Toledo, Ohio.
