(author) Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations : Tenure of Indigenous Peoples Territories and Redd+ as a Forestry Management Incentive: The Case of Mesoamerican Countries (Paperback) - Common before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Tenure of Indigenous Peoples Territories and Redd+ as a Forestry Management Incentive: The Case of Mesoamerican Countries (Paperback) - Common:

The aim of this study is to examine the linkages and contexts in countries such as Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua and Panama, where there are considerable forest areas with significant indigenous populations. That is why programs to reduce emissions from deforestation and ecosystem degradation, such as REDD+ could represent an opportunity to strengthen processes of conservation...
